Our treat—come and get some good things to eat

A good housewife won't take anybody's word about an article as important as an oil cook stove.

She wants to see for herself how it works and what sort of results it gives.

We don't blame her. She is right.

That is why we are demonstrating the Florence Oil Cook Stove in our window.

An expert cook is doing all sorts of cooking right before your eyes and serving everything she cooks so you can judge the results.

Every good housekeeper will be interested and should make it a point to see this demonstration.

After a lapse of several months, because of the faulty condition of the fire whistle, the curfew was sounded at 10 minutes to 9 last night. The warning went to youngsters, that the place for them is at home, will be heard nightly hereafter and notice has been given the police department to see that the ordinance is enforced to the letter this year.

The Ladies' Hospital Aid society will hold its weekly sewing meeting at the hospital Friday afternoon. It is hoped there will be a large attendance, but there is also an opportunity now for others to assist in their own homes, if unable to go to the hospital. Call Mrs. Agnes Williams, Tel. 537-W for further information.

Yesterday was an extremely busy day at the fire station, no less than three telephone calls summoning the light chemical truck during the afternoon having been received. A menacing grass fire on the Mead property above Franklin street was back fired shortly after 1 o'clock to prevent it from reaching dwellings. An incinerator at A. Tomasi's was shooting out bits of flaming paper, much to the fear of nearby residents. Railroad workmen on the Barre & Chelsea left a pile of old ties burning near the Johnson & Gustafson stone shed that appeared dangerous. There was no damage from any of the three blazes.

An enjoyable afternoon was spent at the woman's association of the Congregational church yesterday, when the following program was given, the first two numbers being in honor of Patriots' day: Reading, "Paul Revere's Ride," Miss Hester Drinell; singing, "America," violin solo, Miss Velma Campbell (Miss Cutler at the piano); singing solo, Miss Alice Walker (Mrs. Geneva Robinson at the piano); piano solo, Miss Marion Dorward; "Packing the Home Missionary Barrel" was then given, with the following cast of characters: Mrs. Brown (the hostess), Mrs. Kent; Mrs. Dimpie (short and stout), Mr. Chandler; Mrs. Hine (a simpering spinster), Mrs. Arthur Averill; Mrs. Green (a boss), Mrs. Rogers; Mrs. Jones (an invalid), Mrs. Spear; Mrs. Lamb (a widow), Miss Averill; Mrs. Hicks (strong-minded), Mrs. Charles Averill; Mrs. Marks and Mrs. White (willing helpers), Mrs. Arthur Tilden and Mrs. Martin; Sophie (a Polish girl), Miss Gladding. Afternoon tea and wafers were served by the ladies in costume.

Lawton Witt, former Goddard baseball star, who was drafted into the big leagues some years ago and who has been playing with the Philadelphia team, was recently sold to the New York Yankees. Witt is one of the stars in the baseball world, having a batting average in the .300 class last year. He will be used by the Yankees in the field as a utility man. Witt will be remembered by many Barre fans as having played a great game at short-stop for Goddard.

Every Sunday school teacher and everyone interested in Sunday school work in the Congregational church should be present at the service this evening in the church parlor, when G. Ernest Robbins, general secretary of the Vermont State Sunday School association, is to be in charge. Mr. Robbins is an authority in the state on Sunday school matters and those attending the meeting are asked to present to him any problems or questions in relation to Sunday school work, which he will answer. The service is at 7:30 and a large attendance is hoped for.

DeMar was not the only man to show a comeback in the marathon game yesterday. When a horse atatched to a heavily laden American Express wagon started to leave its customary place in the city square yesterday while goods were being delivered and headed in the direction of Elm street he was spied by George N. Tilden, who attempted to pacify the wandering animal with kind and soothing words but his words fell upon deaf ears. The animal gradually quickened its stride and George did the same.

Fearing that it was about to be halted in its happy-go-lucky course the animal started into a brisk trot out Elm street. Here is where George showed his real class for, despite his ample girth, he put on a burst of speed which would have done credit to a much lighter man and seized the animal by its bridle. Naturally it did not drag him a great way before coming to a stop. Pedestrians who watched the escapade complimented Mr. Tilden on his activeness.
